Figure 4: Figure shows the fraction of points classified correctly by both C-SVM (blue curve) and B-SVM (red curve) as a function of the decision rule threshold. The x-axis shows the decision rule threshold as a percentage of the maximum absolute value of the decision function $g(\boldsymbol{x})$ over all training points. The y-axis shows the overall classification accuracy or sensitivity of C-SVM and B-SVM.